Own Our Shift

In this powerful keynote, Brent explores the journey from life's toughest challenges to triumphant success. Despite a rough start marked by divorce, drinking, and debt, Brent shows that where you begin doesn't define your future. The talk focuses on the "gap," the space between where you are and where you want to be—a place many get stuck, unable to move forward. However, by enacting the proven strategies he outlines in Own Our Shift, you can overcome the obstacles of the gap. The payoff is a life transformed, as seen in Brent's own journey.

Pivotal Decisions

In this inspiring keynote, Brent challenges the common belief that life is changed by a few monumental decisions. Instead, he'll explore how it's the small, seemingly insignificant choices we make every day that truly shape who we become. Through consistency and discipline, these tiny pivots gradually lead to an entirely new lifestyle. Discover how the discipline of daily routines, like getting up early or balancing work and family, create lasting change.
